Inmate Rules of Conduct

Sheriff Larry R. Mincks Sr., Washington County Sheriff

Major Greg Nohe, Jail Administrator

INTRODUCTION

The Washington County Jail (WCJ) is managed and operated by the Washington County Sheriff, his designated Jail Administrator, and Correctional Staff (CS). The Sheriff, Jail Administrator, and CS are required by state and federal law to maintain the security, humane living conditions, and fair treatment of all inmates.

The following rules are based upon the current Minimum Standards for Jails in the State of Ohio. All rules, for the governance of the WCJ, will be approved by the Common Pleas Court of Washington County. Exceptions to the rules may be granted only by the Sheriff or Jail Administrator.

These rules define what is required of an inmate and the responsibility of the CS. Disciplinary action is one of the many necessary requirements in jail treatment. When applied reasonably and with fairness, disciplinary action not only assists in protecting the health, safety, and security of all persons within the jail but also provides a positive means of maintaining the morale of inmates and CS. Violation of a rule may be punishable as “Minor”, “Major”, or “Serious” violation, as noted in these Inmate Rules of Conduct Handbook.

Inmates have certain rights within the WCJ, but each right is accompanied by a responsibility. As human beings, inmates have the right to expect to be treated with respect, impartiality, and fairness by all jail staff and Sheriff's Office employees. Inmates have the responsibility to treat others, both jail staff and other inmates, in the same manner.

Inmates have a right to be informed of the rules, procedures, and schedules of the jail. Inmates are required to read and understand these rules. Inmates have the responsibility to know and abide by them. The inmate's signature on the “Inmate Signature Page” during the booking process will indicate that they will read the rules located on the dorm kiosk. These rules are to ensure safe, efficient custody, health, and fair treatment. If an Inmate does not understand these rules or cannot read, they may ask a CS member for assistance.

Inmates are required to sign a Legal Mail Acknowledgment form for all incoming and outgoing legal mail. Letters or property of any kind may not be passed from one housing area to another. Withholding of any correspondence will not be used as a form of punishment.

There shall be no limitation on the amount of incoming or outgoing first class mail for inmates. All outgoing mail will be mailed at the inmates' expense. All incoming mail for inmates will be opened and inspected. Mail will not be delivered to the inmate if it contains contraband (e.g., narcotics, drugs, tools of escape, weapons, or anything that may be considered contraband). All contraband will be seized and confiscated. (Confiscated items will be considered a Serious Violation and the inmate may be subject to prosecution and/or an administrative rules infraction).

If an inmate places a phone call to an attorney and is audibly notified when placing the call that they are speaking on a recorded line subject to monitoring, the inmate waives any expectation of privacy related to that phone call. Indigent inmate calls to an inmate's public defender are at no cost. Non-indigent inmates must pay for calls to their prospective or current criminal attorney of record.

Each housing unit has telephones that may be used for unlimited calling. Time restrictions will not be initiated unless problems are caused by inmates dominating the telephone or refusing other inmates access to the system (Minor Violation). Inmates have access to these phones from 0800 hours to 2230 hours. Inmates are not permitted to use another inmate's personal pin code with or without their permission (Major Violation). Inmates are required to bring water to the medication cart. Inmates are to drink water after taking their medication and to show the CS dispersing the medication under their tongue and around their gum line.

All inmates will be scheduled for a basic physical within their first 14 days of incarceration. . There will be no charge for this physical.

Inmates have a right to be seen by a medical professional, other than the jail physician, if they so choose, and the following conditions are met. The inmate must provide the name and address of the medical professional so that the jail nursing staff can verify his or her medical license. 1. Push the silver intercom button;
2. Wait for the CS's response; and,
3. State clearly what the emergency is.

Inmates do not need to keep pushing the button to respond. Do not shout into the intercom. Speak in a normal tone.

Should a fight break out in the housing unit or there is a disturbance that does not require evacuation, all inmates who are unaffected by the emergency must return to their assigned cell. Inmates' failure to return to their cell will result in disciplinary sanctions (Minor Violation).
